

Agriculture – our heritage and our future

How do we salute the people who grow Mountain View County's Agriculture industry? By acknowledging your courage and resiliency.

Despite the toughest of times, County farmers and agribusiness continue to persevere with pure determination, creative thinking and relentless confidence in a better tomorrow.

In so doing, you've raised the bar for all of us. During this last year, we've been reminded of the importance of community and the values that cement our rural heritage. While the challenges are many, Agriculture's adversity has brought us together in ways that touch the heart. You can be sure, we're better for it as friends, neighbors, and businesses.

Together, we'll build a future that's stronger than ever. Count on it.
